

Hi, my name is Kelli Crumpton Ketner. I am the General Manager of Gingerbread LittleVersity Inc. I am the daughter of founders Libby and Ronnie Crumpton and have grown up in the childcare business since I was eight years old.

During elementary school, I assisted teachers by reading stories to the children and playing games with them on the playground. During high school, I worked as the afterschool teacher in the winter and as a lifeguard and swim instructor during the summer. I went on to attend North Carolina State University and received my BA in Business Management.

After graduation, I returned to become the director of Gingerbread LittleVersity Uptown for four years. In 1998, Ms. Libby began her retirement and I began my training for the position of general manager of the three centers. My job allows me to visit each center several times a day and be available to the directors, teachers, and parents during operating hours.

Our childcare centers were started and solely owned by my family and have been in operation since 1980. We enjoy a homelike, small town atmosphere of attainability and a desire to treat your child as we want ours treated. Our reputation stands on its own as is exemplified by our now providing care for children of children we have served in the past. I invite you to give our schools a visit.

Sincerely,

Kelli Crumpton Ketner
